

GOVERNMENT SILENT ON MITCHELL CASE

SURVIVOR OF MEXICAN AGRARIAN PLOT TELLS LURID TALE OF TERROR

Assassination of All Foreigners Object Of Society, Dr. John Morton Says—Calles Congratulated For His Efforts By Scientist.

Mexico City, Mex., Sept. 8.—Dr. John J. Morton, of Mission, Tex., today painted a lurid picture of an agrarian terror threatening the lives of all foreigners in the region of Atlixco, Puebla.

Rescued with his wife and two surviving children from a state of siege and brought under guard of federal troops to Mexico City, the scientist whose work in plant culture has brought him recognition in America and in Europe, planned to leave today for Los Angeles.

Dr. Morton declared the agrarians of Atlixco had formed a secret society pledged to assassinate all foreign land owners. His own partner, Robert Maurer, the Frenchman, was one of the most recent victims and he pointed also to the slaying of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, the British subject, and German and even Spanish citizens as evidence of the thoroughness with which the agrarians are carrying out their plans.

Morton had no word of criticism for President Calles. He praised the executive for his efforts to clean up the situation and in a telegram expressed his gratitude for his efforts to make the lives and interests of foreigners secure. He only regretted that Calles' condemnation of the "horrible and barbaric" conditions had not availed to protect him and his family, had they remained in Atlixco.

His life was threatened, his wife shot at, and their home fired upon before federal troops arrived to protect them, he said. He was forced to hide in his home until the troops came and then was not permitted out of their sight until he was aboard the train. Other federal guards accompanied the doctor and his wife on their trip to Mexico City.

Dr. Morton, a fellow of the Royal Society of Great Britain who holds many degrees in the United States for his work in plant culture, was brought to Mexico three years ago by the Oregon government to improve cultivation methods.

He became associated with Robert Maurer, member of a wealthy French family, in plantation holdings near Atlixco, one of the most fertile spots in the Mexican republic. With the hope of restoring the rich sugar industry to Puebla, Dr. Morton started a farm school system. The Maurers placed extensive orders for farm machinery in the United States.

Morton told a pitiful story of the circumstances preceding the flight of his family. A week ago his oldest son, a boy of eight was buried in Atlixco. It had been impossible to secure medical attention for the lad, as physicians feared to go to Atlixco.

CLAIM WATT'S FAME BELONGS TO RUSSIAN

Moscow, Sept. 8.—James Watt will be removed from the history as the inventor of steam engines, if historians pay heed to the demands of the central committee of the Russian trade union of metal workers. This organization has passed a solemn resolution declaring that Ivan Ivanovich Polzunov was the first to make a steam engine work.

Polzunov, the son of a soldier, submitted complete plans of his machine, with a model, to Catherine the Great, in the year 1763, according to a report submitted to the central committee by Comrade Rysko. James Watt took out patents on his engine in 1769, six years after the Russian. Shortly after completing his invention Polzunov died of throat trouble and was unable to carry on his work.

EDERLE ABANDONS SWIM OF CHANNEL

Cape Gris Nez, France, Sept. 8.—With November weather prevailing along the English coast and not much better weather on the French coast, Miss Gertrude Ederle, American swimming champion, has been forced to practically abandon any further attempts at swimming the channel this season.

Tentative passage for Miss Ederle to sail homeward on Saturday from Cherbourg has been arranged. This plan will be carried out unless there is a sudden and unexpected change in weather conditions which hold out hopes that it may be possible for the girl swimmer to make another effort.

HEALTH NEAR PERFECT

Columbus, Sept. 8.—With health conditions among the pupils "almost perfect," according to School Superintendent J. C. Collicott, a record breaking attendance is expected today at the opening of the fall term in the Columbus public schools. It is estimated that over 40,000 pupils will enroll here this fall. Last year's registrations totalled 35,964.

NATION WIDE SEARCH STARTED FOR KENTON GIRL WHO IS MISSING

Three Men Sought In Connection With Disappearance

Kenton, Ohio, Sept. 8.—A country-wide search was on today for Dorothy Emberling, 17, who, according to police reports, left the home of her parents here. Authorities are working on the theory that she was enticed away.

At the same time a search was being conducted for Irvin Dyser, 25, of Foraker, married and the father of two children.

Miss Emberling was a student in the local high school here.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Emberling, reported to the authorities that they discovered their daughter's absence when they received an unsigned letter informing them that Dorothy and three men had gone to Michigan, in a Chevrolet touring car.

The sheriff said that in addition to Dyser, he was looking for Jim Cooper and Harvey Walker, both of Kenton.

Miss Emberling was described as exceptionally pretty, with dark brown, bobbed hair and fair complexion. She is five feet four inches tall. She has a cataract over the left eye. Her mother said the girl wore a white house dress and apron when she disappeared and that she also took along a one piece black dress.

Mr. Emberling declared he would prefer serious charges against the men when they are apprehended, according to the sheriff.

CATHOLIC SERVICE WILL UNITE ITALIAN PRINCESS MAFALDA

Dispensation Granted By Pope For Marriage to Prince Philip

Rome, Sept. 8.—Due to differences of religion the marriage of Princess Mafalda, daughter of King Victor Emmanuel, and Prince Philip of Hesse, will be a Catholic ceremony but the nuptial mass will be eliminated. Special dispensation for the marriage between the catholic princess and the Protestant prince has already been granted by the Vatican.

Monsignor Baccaris, almoner of the Italian royal household, has been selected to perform the marriage service.

Premier Mussolini, acting as crown notary, will officiate for the civil ceremonies.

Princess Mafalda who is a great popular favorite in Italy, is busily engaged with her mother, the queen, her grandmother, the queen mother, and her sister Princess Giovanna, in superintending the completion of her trousseau.

Representatives of at least a half a dozen royal families of Europe are expected to attend the wedding.

FIVE ESCAPE

Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—Search was being continued today for the five prisoners who escaped Sunday night from the guardhouse at Fort Hayes, local United States army post, by sawing away some of the bars. These men were attired in fatigue uniforms. All had been court-martialed and sentenced for deserting. They are: James H. Kammerling, Homer S. Pitts, Anthony Circeo, Matt Smith, and John Neigh.

HOLIDAY CLAIMS HEAVY TOLL OF DEAD AND INJURED IN OHIO TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Cleveland, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Lulu Hitchcock, 57, is dead, two others are near death in Cleveland hospitals, while scores of others are being treated for less serious injuries, the result of automobile accidents yesterday and last night in northern Ohio districts. In every instance, "road hogs" who forced other machines off the road were blamed for the fatal accidents. While the tally is far from complete, authorities estimated today that more than one hundred cars were smashed, many beyond hope of repair, in traffic accidents during yesterday and early morning hours of today.

Indicating the recent measures to make the lives of pedestrians and drivers safe in Cleveland, not a single serious traffic accident occurred in Cleveland over Labor Day.

The smash-ups occurred on roads in all directions laden with a heavy stream of holiday travel.

Annie Drodgen, 6, of Mentor, Ohio, and Edward Barnegle, 24, of Cleveland, were reported near death in Cleveland hospitals.

Mrs. E. Lane, of Zanesville, O., whose automobile was struck by another machine within the city limits, suffered cuts, which were pronounced not serious. The owner of the machine, who later called police to report his automobile stolen, was arrested pending investigation.

Columbus, Sept. 8.—At least eleven persons were more or less seriously hurt in the Columbus district in automobile accidents Sunday and Labor Day, a survey here showed today.

Eighty motorists were to face Judge Edward Berry today to answer traffic violation charges.

Youth Admits Kidnaping, Pleads Not Guilty to Chauffeur Murder and Waits Arraignment On Killing Of Little Girl

Newark, N. J., Sept. 8.—They will bury six year old Mary Daly, of Montclair, today. Meanwhile her confessed kidnaper and slayer, Harrison Noel, 20, half-wit collegian, was shuffling about in a "double cage" cell at the Essex County jail here.

The youth who admitted to shooting to death "the little girl in the pink dress," and hiding her body in a clump of bushes after kidnaping her in an automobile stolen from Raymond Pierce, negro chauffeur, whom he also murdered, was closely guarded in a cell within a cell. Noel maintained silence, making no attempt to talk with his attendants.

Noel has yet to be arraigned for the murder of the Daly child. He has pleaded not guilty to the charge of killing Pierce, entered a plea of guilty to kidnaping Mary Daly and has yet to face a charge of assault and battery brought by John Sandin, who was wounded by Noel when he pursued the kidnaper.

Montclair police are investigating to discover whether Noel's double slayings in his home town was the culmination of a career of cunning crime. Edward S. Reilly, police chief of Montclair, expects to connect the youth with unsolved crimes in New York, where the weak minded Noel drove a taxicab in between commitments to sanitariums. Despite the fact that the collegian was reported to be confined to Overbrook Hospital for the insane in New Jersey at the time Florence Kane was strangled in a Brooklyn vacant lot last May, Reilly intends to question Noel about the murder.

The authorities are dubious as to Noel ever standing trial for his confessed murders. They regard him as hopelessly insane. Prosecutor John A. Bigelow of Essex County, plans to have a commission of three alienists examine Noel. If found insane he would be committed to the asylum for the criminally insane at Trenton, N. J.

FLYERS BURIED IN NATIONAL CEMETERY

Washington, Sept. 8.—Four of the navy flyers who lost their lives on the ill-fated Shenandoah were buried with stately simplicity today in Arlington national cemetery.

Their caskets piled high with flowers and surrounded by hundreds of comrades and thousands of condoling civilians, the intrepid aviators were fittingly laid to rest near the last resting place of the Maine dead, on a knoll overlooking Washington and the Potomac river.

ACCIDENTAL SHOT CAUSES DAMAGE

Columbus, Sept. 8.—Suffering from a hip wound, Mrs. Paulina Barry is in a serious condition today at St. Francis Hospital. Her husband may lose the first finger of his left hand. When Barry accidentally pulled the trigger of a gun which he thought was not loaded, a bullet tore through his finger and lodged in his wife's left hip.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The search for the missing seaplane PN-9, number one, forced down in the Pacific between San Francisco and Honolulu, will be continued, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur declared today.

Even if Commander John Rodgers and other members of the crew are not found, it was said that the navy wanted to find their seaplane so that it can determine what actually happened to stop the flight.

The destroyers which have been searching for the plane have been ordered to go over the course again.

AUTOIST KILLED

His wife, Dottie, has a fractured skull; their son, Alphonso, aged eight, suffered a lacerated head, and Mary Pamen, 25, sustained a fractured arm, nose and ankle. The injured are in Canton Hospitals.

ACTING SECRETARY OF WAR DAVIS FACES DISCIPLINING TASK

Confers With Heads Of Air Service On Punishment

Washington, Sept. 8.—Acting Secretary of War Dwight Davis returned to Washington today to find awaiting him at the war department the problem precipitated by Colonel William Mitchell's latest attack on the conduct of military aeronautics by the army and navy.

Davis planned to confer during the day with Major General John L. Hines, the chief of staff and Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the air service, to determine what would be the best move for the department to take in disciplining Mitchell. Pending a personal survey of the situation, Davis declined to discuss Col. Mitchell's statement of Saturday or the probable action of the department.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The war department continued to mark time today in the case of Colonel William Mitchell, of the air service, understood to be slated for severe disciplinary action for his latest attack on the high command of the army and navy, pending the return to Washington of Acting Secretary of War Dwight Davis.

In the past it has always been left to the secretary of war to personally "attend to" Mitchell. For this reason Major General John L. Hines, the chief of staff and Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of air service, have hesitated to issue any orders affecting Mitchell until they have conferred with Secretary Davis.

In the meantime, they have discussed Mitchell's published statement of Saturday but have declined to reveal what conclusions, if any have been reached.

Among army officials the feeling prevails that it will be impossible in the present circumstances for the war department to pass over the Mitchell outbreak without taking some action, either in the form of court-martial or a reprimand, against the former assistant chief of the air service. They realize that the Mitchell charges of inefficiency in the conduct of the air services of the army and navy will precipitate a controversy in congress this winter and are therefore anxious to avoid any move which might result in further emarrasement to the war department.

What would please Mitchell's superiors the most would be, of course, to find some way of silencing him, but they have tried this in the past, without success and are not hopeful of being able to do it now.

Secretary Davis is due back in Washington either today or tomorrow. Whether he will order prompt action in Mitchell's case or wait until he has discussed the situation with President Coolidge and Secretary of War Weeks remained a matter of conjecture today.

Arriving in Washington following his recent return from Europe, Senator William H. King, Democrat, of Utah, a member of the senate naval affairs committee, announced today that he would offer a resolution in the next congress proposing a sweeping investigation of the government's military aircraft program, including the destruction of the dirigible Shenandoah and the charges of Colonel Mitchell.

PROUD OF UNIFORM! SCOFFER IS KILLED

New York, Sept. 8.—Joseph Rizzuto, of Brooklyn, was proud of his war record and his bullet torn army uniform.

Because Francisco Anello, 45, also of Brooklyn, ridiculed the uniform, Rizzuto shot and killed him today as he was entering his home.

They had been at an outing on Staten Island yesterday, Rizzuto told the police after he had been captured, and he as well as some of the other members of the Fruit Packers Union had worn their world war uniforms. Anello told him he "looked like a clown" in the uniform, according to Rizzuto, and later, when he hung his coat on the limb of a tree, Anello ripped the bullet holes open with a knife, he said.

He couldn't find Anello after that. He stayed awake most of the night, thinking of the humiliation. Finally he decided upon revenge and this morning he went to Anello's home and shot him.

OHIO CHILDREN ARE GOING TO SCHOOL

Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—The tramp of hundreds of thousands of little feet was heard in Ohio today. Their little pioneers were starting the fall's first plodding to school.

State Director Vernon Riegel estimated that by next Monday, 1,300,000 school children will have been enrolled in Ohio's public schools.

CALIFORNIA TO CELEBRATE ITS SEVENTY FIFTH BIRTH ANNIVERSARY WEDNESDAY

San Francisco, Sept. 8 — A great State today is ready to observe a great occasion.

California, queen commonwealth of Western America, will celebrate its seventy-fifth anniversary of statehood September 9.

And in honor of the event there will be eight colorful days in which California's romantic history will be reviewed.

The State's diamond jubilee program will start September 5 and will continue until September 12.

This period includes Labor Day, September 7, and Admission Day, September 9, and elaborate parades and pageantry are scheduled for each of these days.

ADMITTED IN 1850
California was admitted to the Union September 9, 1850.

The seventy-fifth anniversary is being celebrated generally and joyously throughout the whole State. The climax will be reached in San Francisco through a week of colorful fiesta to which the world has been invited.

A committee of representative San Francisco citizens selected by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., is in charge of the celebration.

Plans already made for the observance of Admission Day call for a spectacle of picturesque and historical parade pageantry unequalled in the colorful history of San Francisco.

In an effort to make the Diamond Jubilee celebration not only of State and national interest but of world-wide interest also, invitations bearing the signatures of the Governor of California and the Mayor of San Francisco have been transmitted to all the leading governments of Europe through the State Department at Washington.

An enthusiastic response is anticipated.

In San Francisco Bay during the celebration there is expected to be a concourse of fighting ships of the world's navies such as has never before been seen in the Pacific.

A great assemblage of the air and naval strength of the United States is already assured.

SOUVENIR MINTED
A souvenir — a half dollar piece — commemorating the jubilee, designed by a California artist and minted in California, has been authorized by Congress and approved by President Coolidge.

Three hundred thousand of these coins are now in circulation.

Invitations have been extended to President Coolidge, members of the Cabinet, and members of the House and Senate of the United States.

Special invitations have also been extended to King Alfonso of Spain and President Plutarco Elias Calles of Mexico, and to many other distinguished notables.

Color reminiscent of the days when California was a province of New Spain will lend brilliancy to the festival.

It will revive the costumes of the Spanish era, the garb characteristic of life in California before the fabulous Days of Gold, when don, senorita and mission father ruled, and before the first shipload of silk for women's wear was brought around Cape Horn.

The fiesta will revive interest in the writings of Bret Harte, Mark Twain, Robert Louis Stevenson, Joaquin Miller, Jack London and others, and will attract thousands of tourists to the regions in which the works of these men have their setting.

Perhaps nowhere else in the State will there be a greater revival of public interest than in the Mother Lode country, the section in which gold seekers toiled.

Nearly one hundred communities — ranging all the way from the Mexican line to the Oregon boundary — have announced unusual entertainments, outdoor pageants and fiestas, with a vivid background of the old Spanish life, all culminating in the Diamond Jubilee at San Francisco, beginning on the evening of Saturday, September 5, with a grand Spanish costume ball at the Civic Auditorium, in which all visiting notables will participate.

A fashion show, expected to be one of the best ever held in this country, will be held Sunday, September 6, under the leadership of Mr. Paul Verdier. Mr. Verdier went to Paris to get the very latest gowns for the occasion.

FINDS PARADISE

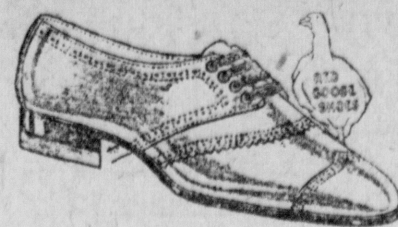

Zurich, Sept. 7—Because he wanted to spend his Summer holidays in Switzerland, a young German who recently served six months in a local jail for theft has been incarcerated again for the same length of time on the same charge.

"I had just enough money to travel from Germany to Zurich," he told the judge, "and committed the theft openly so that I would be arrested as soon as possible. A Swiss prison is a paradise and you are treated as well as in a hotel without paying for your keep." He left the court smiling when he was given the usual term of six months and ordered expelled after serving his sentence.

TENANT HOUSE BURNS TO GROUND SUNDAY; SAVE FURNISHINGS

Two-story frame tenant house, on the D. S. Ervin farm, near Cedarville, was burned to the ground Sunday morning at 7:30 o'clock. The house was occupied by a family named Beatty, who escaped. The household goods were saved.

The fire started in a defective flue in the second story and rapidly consumed the entire structure within a short time. The Beatty family arose early to go to Wilmington to attend the funeral of Mr. Beatty's sister, Mrs. Beatty built a large fire in the kitchen stove to prepare breakfast and it is thought the flue became overheated.

Neighbors fought the flames which soon were beyond their control. The Cedarville Village fire engine was taken to the scene but only a small stream of water could be played on the conflagration.

Mrs. D. & Ervin, this city, is owner of the farm where the fire occurred.

REPORT OF DEATH IN COLLISION OF BOATS IS DECLARED FALSE

Reports of the death of an unidentified girl and the injury of three persons, as the result of a motorboat crash at Russell's Point, Sunday afternoon, in which Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lampert and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Confer, this city, figured, were denied Tuesday afternoon by Bellefontaine authorities. Earlier dispatches Tuesday carried the report of the girl's death.

State Patrolman Gray Harmon categorically denied reports of the girl's death at Bellefontaine. "There was a crash" Harmon said, "eighteen persons were thrown into the water. No one, however, was killed and no one seriously hurt. A few received slight bruises."

Harmon stated he had personally investigated the accident. The Xenia party returned home Sunday night, little the worse for their experience. They were unaware of the extent of the injuries to persons in the other boat and believed reports of the girl's death. Two men and two girls were in the boat that attempted to pass a larger vessel, occupied by the Xenia party, the boats striking head-on. Occupants of the smaller boat were thrown into the water.

BOULDER MARKER DEDICATED MONDAY MARKS SITE OF EARLY BEAVER SCHOOL; REUNION HELD

Early schools days in Beaver Creek township were lived over again Monday by the crowd that attended the sixteenth annual reunion of the school alumni and the dedication of a marker on the site of the original Beaver School.

The program began with a picnic dinner in the Ankeney Grove, adjoining the Beaver Reformed Church, where 108 were seated. All officers were re-elected at the business session which followed the meal. They are: Mrs. Ernest Bradford, president; Newton Snider, Dayton, vice president; Mrs. Charles Ankeney, recording secretary; Miss Helen Ankeney, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Joseph Piper, Xenia, treasurer.

Albert Ankeney, Joel Needles, Dayton; Dan Overholser, Alpha; Owen Snider, Dayton; Mrs. Clara Ledbetter, Xenia; and Harley Frost, Chicago. Miss Snider also spoke briefly.

W. L. Miller, Xenia, delivered the dedication address and W. R. Sayre, director of music in Beaver Schools, led an orchestra and old time songs were sung. The stone marker bears the inscription "Site of old Beaver School 1852-1883."

PUBLIC INTEREST IN POLITICS.

PEOPLE are urged to take more interest in political activities as the only way of getting good government but it is not usually possible to stir people up to take an interest in a thing merely by telling them they ought to do so. Some practical suggestions should be made as to how more interest can be aroused in these questions that come home so closely to all of us.

Many of the older people would say that political interest was more general and widespread in their early days than it is now. They would recall seeing the men sitting around in old time workshops at their noon hours, discussing politics quite ardently. Now we are told that people are so interested in the abundant opportunities for sport and amusement that their attention is diverted from political subjects.

Yet if a person starts out early with a keen interest in this subject, such a one does not have to be urged very much to keep it up. Such people naturally want to read and hear about government matters, and rivalries of politics seem like a very interesting game to them.

Debates on political subjects were formerly one way in which interest was excited. Ancient questions like "protection," "the gold standard or bimetalism," or "prohibition or liquor license," etc., were taken up. Some would have said that those debates were commonplace and that people merely repeated ancient arguments, but those questions seemed tremendously vital then.

They formally got the young men interested by inducing them to join marching battalions. That could not probably be done now. But it would seem as if debates on political subjects were a fine thing to have in schools and clubs, and as if they would incite a large number of students to read the newspapers and form the habit of studying these developments.

SHALL WE KEEP THE PHILIPPINES?

AMERICANS consume about seventy-five to seventy-seven per cent of the rubber production of the world. The Dutch produce nearly all the rest. Rubber is nowhere else in the world so important as it is in the United States. Nowhere else does life travel so extensively on tires. The British producer virtually controls the American consumer. That is not an accident. The British have earned their power. Rubber is an American product. The exploring and conquering whites in South and Central America found that a substance new to them was obtained by Indians from a tree.

Lasting empires require brains as well as swords. Great Britain has had both. The British had virtual control of rubber, obtained by foresight, and now they use it. A trade restriction limits the export of rubber from British plantations. Firestone, the American tire manufacturer, says the American user of rubber may have paid $300,000,000 more because of this restriction before the end of this year.

The United States has the Philippines, by conquest just as Great Britain has its Asiatic possessions. The American Department of Commerce, after investigation, reported last year that there were unlimited areas in South and Central America and in the Philippines for the production of rubber.

Filipino labor could be used in the Philippine plantations. No international arrangements would be required, but a greater military efficiency would be. The Philippines may be a great advantage or a great disadvantage to the United States, the one if they are defensible, the other if they are not. Ships, bases, and fuel oil at the bases—Hawaii is the great one we have in the Pacific—are the defenses. Defend the Philippines or let them go. Defend them and use them to their profit and ours.

WATER POWER.

THE Federal Power Commission in its fourth annual report says:

"We have not any national surplus of water power.

"Our best estimates indicate that we have 55,000,000 horsepower of developed and undeveloped water power available for 50 per cent of the time.

"The combined installation in central electric stations, electric railways and industries in the United States is estimated at 56,000,000 horsepower with several millions more employed in railroad transportation.

"Our present power demands exceed our total water power resources.

Furthermore 72 percent of our total water resources are west of the Mississippi, while 79 per cent of our power requirements are east of that river.

Just Folks

BY EDWARD A. GUEST

TIME

On earth we creep,
We cannot leap
Time's chasm at a bound;
Through patient years
And smiles and tears
The greater good is found.

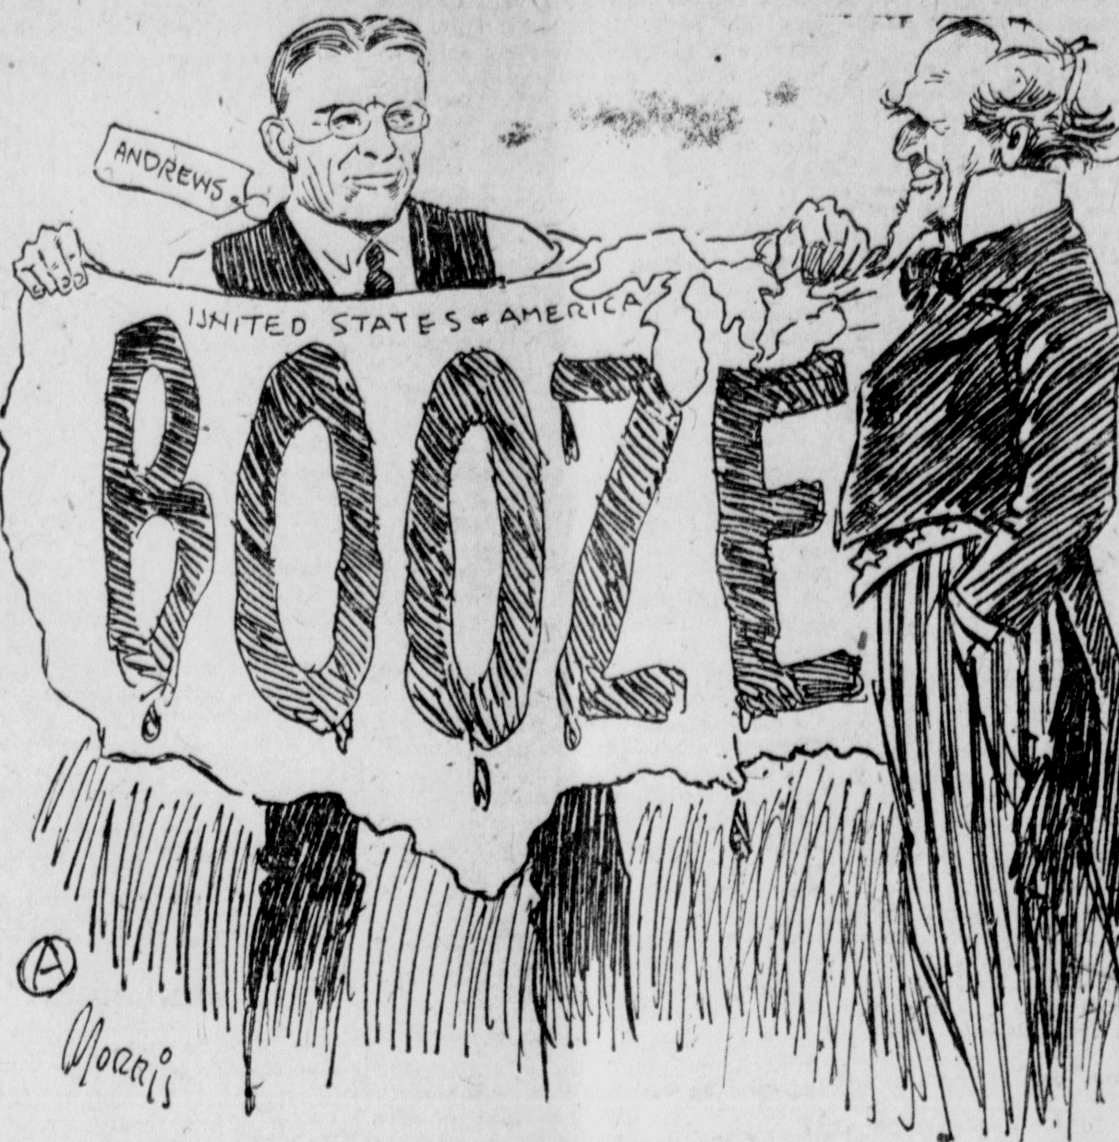

All growth takes time,
Youth cannot climb

To wisdom in a day;
And who would seek
Life's topmost peak
Must trudge a tedious way.

We cannot see
What we shall be
When youth has passed away;
That next ten years
Of doubts and fears
We'll live from day to day.

One task well done,
A new begun,
One danger struggled through,
Faith holding fast
Despite what's past
And thus a dream comes true.

"Reader Who Appreciates: I have learned so much from your column, and I am wondering if you can tell me one thing more: How to clean my alabaster vases?"

Answer: Remove any stains from the alabaster by sponging with flannel moistened with spirits of turpentine. Wash with tepid suds of white soap and then wipe. Now polish with a soft bristled dry brush which you have dipped in plaster of Paris. I am glad you find my column helpful.

"Bride: I have been sealing my jelly glasses with paraffine and using a valued pot as a container for the hot wax. Now I find I cannot get the paraffine from the inside of the pot. Have I ruined it forever?"

Answer: No, the wax can be removed as follows: Fill the pot with boiling hot water and let stand till this water cools—when you will find the paraffine floating on the top of the cooled water in a sheet which can be lifted out with a skimmer. Repeat the process as many times any wax remains on the inside of the pot. But next jelly-making season, I would advise you to melt the wax in a useless old coffee pot, rather than in a valued pot! The spout of the coffee pot will make the pouring easy, and you will not have to bother cleaning out the wax from time to time.

SALVAGE GETS $500,000 FROM SHIP 240 FEET DOWN

Port Said, Sept. 8.—Super-salvage work on the part of the Japanese Deep Sea Corporation of Tokyo has resulted in $500,000 in gold bars being recovered from the Japanese steamship Yaska Maru, which was torpedoed by a submarine in 1925 off Port Said.

The brilliancy of the salvaging feat may be judged by the fact that the Yaska Maru was lying in a difficult position at a depth of over 240 feet, a great depth for diving operations.

Today's Talks

INTERESTED "OTHER PEOPLE"

I do not ask anyone to think as I think, be what I am, or do as I do. I regard rather highly my opportunity at the game of life and I ask only for appreciation for what I am able to do that is of benefit to others.

The one thing that irritates me more than anything else is for someone to go out of his or her way just to tell me that I am not working out my life right at all.

Well! Of one thing I am sure and that is that this life belongs to me, to do with it as I shall, just so long as I do not get in the way of others.

I can think of no greater impertinence than to single out some other human being and tell him that he should do thus and so.

In the first place I have no idea what any other human being should do. I know a few things, at least, that I should do and that is sufficient to keep me both busy and thoughtful.

And yet every where you go, you find other people who seem to feel that they are a sort of Almighty appointed to steer others aright.

I want no one to get the idea that in these simple little daily Talks I have anything new to present or to teach. They are written primarily to help me in my own life and then merely thrown out as suggestions to help other people. But I ask no one to believe as I believe, unless my belief appears good.

One of the great evils of this time is that of interfering with some one else. If anyone should go to jail, I believe in sending those who have no time for anything except to gossip about other people and to say things to hurt them or to get them into trouble.

We are our "brother's keeper" only so far as we have love in us to give to him and to help him around the sharp corners.

Our appraisal should be confined to that of character and not to conduct.

DR. C. P. PROUDFIT TO LEAVE SECOND UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TO GO TO CAMBRIDGE

Dr. Charles P. Proudfit, D. D., pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church, notified his congregation Sunday that he will offer his resignation of the Xenia charge to the Xenia Presbytery, which meets in Columbus, September 14, in order to accept the call tendered him to the First U. P. Church, Cambridge, O.

He asked the congregation to acquiesce to his resignation and allow him to be released in order to go to Cambridge. The Presbytery is expected to act favorably on the resignation and Dr. Proudfit will complete his work in Xenia Sunday, September 27, when he will deliver his farewell sermon.

Dr. Proudfit received the Cambridge call about a month ago. The Cambridge charge is the largest U. P. congregation outside of Pittsburgh and has 1,000 members.

After serving the local pastorate for almost eight years, Dr. Proudfit has gained wide acquaintance which regrets to learn of his leaving. He is president of the Xenia Ministerial Association and has taken an active part in church work in the county. He is known throughout the denomination in this country as an active and effective worker.

He came to Xenia from Des Moines, Ia.

Dr. Proudfit delivered the following statement to his congregation Sunday morning:

"Eight years ago I preached in this pulpit for the first time. Following that sacrament of the Lord's Supper together came your invitation to the pastorate of the Second Church. Loving our congregation in Des Moines, Iowa as we did it was not easy to arrive at a conclusion as to God's will.

"But let me hasten to say that the fellowships of Second Church have grown sweeter as the years go by, and no pastor and wife could expect a more delightful atmosphere of love from a congregation than from Second Church. We have never doubted for a minute in these near-eight years that our transfer was of God. "Recently a similar call has come from the First Church of Cambridge and it has come in such a peculiar way, as to make us give pause till the pillar of cloud was discerned.

"If we were led by our attachment to a flock or to a city and community we would undoubtedly remain in Second Xenia. But living under our ordination vow to go where the Great Head of the Church directs we are convinced that is to Cambridge. Far rather would I leave Xenia now with the affection of Second Church and its beautiful spirit of patience than to hazard a time when an impatient people might wish that the sky pilot would move on. Far easier the task of my successor now with a united people than perhaps to bequeath him the burden some day of a parish lacking unity. Far richer the asset to the Kingdom of God for a humble preacher to leave while a city accepts his Divine mission with surprising love than to overstay a city's welcome and leave the Kingdom of God just that much poorer.

"The call to Cambridge comes from one of the great strongholds of the faith. I should not dare attempt its staggering immensities were I not almost physically perfect. Six weeks ago my life insurance policy demanded a new examination and every organ was demonstrated perfect. I must give appreciative account to my God for this kindness by accepting the task He assigns me.

"The next ten years of my life, if spared, should be better than any I have yet lived, and should bring larger returns to my master than any decade thus far of my life. I must work the works of Him that sent me while it is day; the night cometh when no man can work. Similarly the next ten years are going to mean much to evangelical Christianity. It is having its acid test and my conviction is that I can render a larger service to the Christian faith in the crucible by accepting this call.

"Believing with Tennyson that it is 'one clear call for me' I do now ask you to acquiesce in my request to Presbytery to be released from the pastoral oversight of Second Church the last Sabbath of September—just three weeks from today.

"We shall supplicate the Throne of Grace for God's richest blessings to descend upon historic Second Church in the days to come. Sincerely have we tried to conserve her loftiest traditions. We have striven to be conservative in doctrine and progressive in methods. We believe that your families are the stronger because we have honestly attempted to perpetuate these richest heritages of a hundred years and more. They are a birthright which many do not possess. Let none despise them.

"You will believe me when I say our home is deeply sad in looking forward to the days and night of homesickness that await us when we look back to Xenia as a haven of friendliness. Our duty is not defined by emotions but by orders. Where He leads us we will follow. It is the adventure of faith."

Don't Be Misled

No "many purpose" soap can accomplish Palmolive results. Palmolive is made for just one purpose... to foster good complexions

MILLIONS of women know that Palmolive has brought them new beauty, new charm. In France, the home of cosmetics, Palmolive Soap is one of the two largest selling toilet soaps. French women find it their ideal of a soap. French soaps are being supplanted by Palmolive.

The reason is this: Palmolive is a unique creation, based on 60 years of soap study. It is a scientific soap, made for ONE thing only. To foster good complexions.

In old days, women were told "use no soap on your faces." Soaps were too harsh. Then came Palmolive, a soap made of rare cosmetic oils... olive and palm oils, famous since the days of Cleopatra as beautifiers of the skin. And combined in secret blend. A soap to be used freely, lavishly on the skin.

Women tried it. And were amazed. Palmolive became the leading toilet soap of the world. It is made in five countries to supply the universal demand. It has brought to millions a beauty no soap had ever brought before.

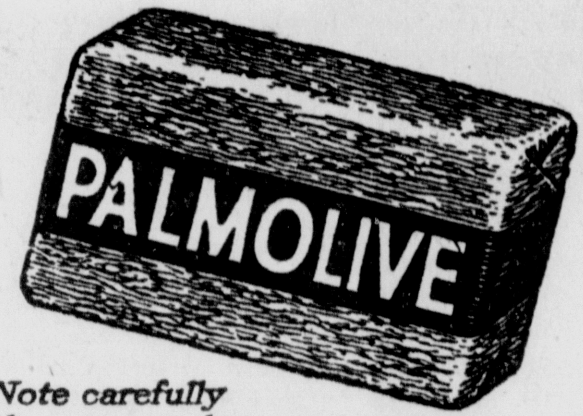

Don't expect Palmolive results from ordinary soaps. Don't expect them from medicated soaps. Even genuine castile failed in bringing them. Certainly no ordinary soap can. Protect your skin's beauty by using a soap made for that purpose alone.

Palmolive is not intended for laundry work, or for household cleansing. To make it good for those things, its cosmetic qualities would need be much reduced. And good complexions are too precious to be endangered thus.

There are soaps at 25 cents and over that approach Palmolive in complexion results. We know of two. But Palmolive sells at 10 cents... no more than ordinary soaps. Enormous production brings you this modest cost.

The fact that one woman in every two today has a clear, fresh skin proves Palmolive results. Would you go back to ordinary soaps and perhaps imperil yours?

Wash, cleanse, launder with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake, take care: Use Palmolive, a soap you know is safe to use. It is nature's formula to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion."

Note carefully the name and wrapper. Palmolive is never sold unwrapped.

FRENCH WOMEN

Largely Vote "No" on French Soaps

In France, women smile at the age-old beauty bubble of "French soaps." Palmolive is today one of the two greatest selling toilet soaps in France. Parisian beauties are glad to pay almost twice as much for a cake of Palmolive as American women pay. And, in many cases, three times as much as for their own "French" soaps. Remember this when tempted by costly French soaps, or by "French" claims for soaps.

OBITUARY

Franklin Ellsworth Lyle son of Harry Ellsworth Lyle was born near Sabina Ohio December 2 1862 and passed from this life September 4 1935. Aged 72 years 8 months and two days.

He is the second of a family of three. A sister Jennie passed from this life to her reward in January 1934. The early life of the family was spent in Clinton and Highland Counties.

He was united in marriage to Annetta Kennedy June 25 1884. To this union four children were born. Ray Mary and Kenneth. Kenneth died in infancy. Ray preceded his father in death. There are two grandchildren Donald and Ethel Cook.

Mr. Lyle was a member of the Edgefield M. E. Church for thirty years. He was a man who made friends everywhere he went and was loved by all who knew him. His sudden departure was a great shock to his many friends. Although he was suffering intensely he was very brave to the end when death called him.

We all knew the day must come when we say good by to our loved ones and they pass to the great beyond. God's comfort is for our aching hearts while we ponder the Providence that took him away so suddenly. We know that the home will be lonely without him but we will make the best of his loss with our lives.

He is at rest but not forgotten our dear Father.

Nor will he ever be as long as life and memory last. We will always remember thee.

The stream of life must roll on. We must go on. But the memory of the love and the voice of one who once was here.

We miss you - Father - Oh how we miss you.

A SHOPPING GUIDE FOR THE BARGAIN HUNTER

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY" BY MACK SAUER

Well, the miners may strike. A few more strikes and the public will be out of coal.

Which reminds me of a story about a miner who lost a leg recently. The mine boss was looking for a mine prop. Finding none he cut off a miner's wooden leg, when he found the miner asleep. He used the leg for a mine prop. It was a wooden leg.

THE MINER HAD DREAMS

He dreamed a group of angels Were coming after him, And when he got awake, he Found they took one limb.

While it is admitted that the mine boss may have needed a mine prop, he will not soon be forgiven for taking the prop out from under the miner. The poor miner was left with little understanding.

The poor miner had been strapped to a wooden leg for several years, but that is nothing compared to being strapped because of a strike. He didn't kick when the mine boss cut off his leg—he didn't know it. But he'll probably kick if Ohio people don't buy Ohio mined coal this winter.

DON'T SOB

If you lost a leg, Don't cry, my lad; You'll get it back Through a lost ad.

Usually when a fellow loses a leg the matter is wound up in red tape, while the poor fellow's leg is wound up in white tape and bandages. I'll wind this paragraph up by asking you to read the "Coal and Ice" classification on this page.

The poor miner can't expect any adjusted compensation, but he is probably anxious to get the compensation adjusted for a new leg. A leg that is too short won't do even in a pinch. When he gets a new pair shoes it will be trying on one for him.

HERE I LEAVE A WOODEN LEG

Speaking of coal, if you have a lump in your throat and the future looks black; better get to digging in and forget your troubles. If there is to be any running, make it a little run of mine.

While this isn't all about bone coal, to avoid any bone of contention, we hope there will be no mine strike. By the way, better fill that coal bin now. Phone the dealers who advertise on this page.

BILLY GIBSON NOW SEEKING MATCH FOR TUNNEY WITH WILLS

New York, Sept. 8.—The holiday activities of the Run Around, a syndicate in which Harry Wills has replaced Jack Dempsey as the hare and Billy Gibson is now master of the hounds: Gibson is pursuing the sable Tvedevore in behalf of Gene Tunney, who proclaims an overwhelming desire to engage Wills in battle early in October.

Wills professes his willingness. Everybody is willing, it seems, but no material progress has been made with the match. Wills jumbles something about being obligated to box for New Jersey promoters first.

Gibson, who refers to Wills as the "sambo-gambian," vehemently declares that the black man is hiding behind an old Newark contract to avoid meeting Tunney this fall.

"He claims that the four horsemen of the Apocalypse have a prior right to his services," says Gibson. "They seem to be making all his matches."

Gibson has already signed with Tex Rickard for Tunney, but is privileged to transfer the contract to any other promoter who can get Wills' signature if Rickard falls. If Wills accepts a Newark date this month he will deliberately pass up a chance to acquire a quarter of a million dollars, which he could get for boxing Tunney at one of the local baseball parks.

Such a move would indicate that he is rather apprehensive over his chance with Tunney.

Rickard is willing to undertake the promotion of a Tunney-Wills match as a daylight fight at the Yankee stadium next month, but, of course, he cannot afford to take a chance on Wills indulging in a warm up at Newark.

Harry's hands are brittle and if he injured one of them in the Jersey engagement, Rickard would be in the bag for heavy promotion expenses, with no chance to recoup his losses.

RESERVES DEFEAT ST. AGNES IN NINTH AS EARL MILBURN HURLS AIR TIGHT GAME

BY L. J. WONES

Earl Milburn of this city bested Bob Leeper of St. Agnes' team of Dayton in a southpaw pitching battle at Washington Park Labor Day afternoon and the Reserves won out in their half of the ninth by a 5 to 4 score in an interesting game that was sloppy at times.

Harve Reese, Reserves new hurler, did not appear so Milburn was shoved into the game and did just as good as Reese could have done. He held the hard hitting Church nine to four bingles and but one run was earned off him. His support was bad as his mates made half dozen errors behind him.

The visitors over two hurlers and both were good but their support was rotten. Joe Schoep started and pitched three rounds. The locals got four runs and two hits off him. Bob Leeper then took up the pitching job and held the locals at bay until the game was tied up in the ninth.

The locals scored in the first round and added three more runs in the third on Early's hit to short center, a hit batsman, an error by Verisig and a wild peg by Schoep.

The visitors got busy in the fourth and R. Leeper's double and a wild throw by Garrison gave the visitors their first tally.

They added another in the fifth after Schoep tripled to left and scored on McAmespins sacrifice fly to left.

Errors in the ninth let the St. Agnes nine put over two tallies that knotted the score at four all but the locals staged a rally and won the game when Early was safe at first when Daily booted his roller. Garrison was retired on a long fly to right field but Randall dumped a safe one back of third that advanced Early to third. "Stony" Fuller then emitted a sharp single over short that scored Early and won the game for the locals.

Early led the locals at bat with two singles out of four trips to the plate. E. Leachey, Early and Garrison played well in the field.

Joe Schoep starred for the losers. He obtained two hits off Milburn, one being a triple and the other a single. He pitched, played first base and second base, handled eleven chances in all, making but one error.

The Reserves will play their next game Sunday afternoon at Washington Park when they meet the Merchants in the third game of the city series. Each team has now won a game.

EMPLOYEES OF HAGAR COMPANY PICNIC AT CLIFTON SATURDAY

Employees of the Hagar Straw Board and Paper Company, Cedarville, with their families frolicked at the annual picnic at the Clifton Tourist Camp, Saturday.

The picnic was voted a success from every angle by the participants. The crowd left the mill offices in Cedarville at 9:30 a.m. Before the line-up of fifty machines, "snappy" Peter Pan hats were distributed to the picnickers. After parading through the village the crowd went direct to the picnic grounds.

There were 300 in attendance at the picnic dinner. Wilson W. Galloway, general manager, who had been absent from the mill on a two weeks' vacation was in attendance with his family. Mrs. Charles Galloway and children, Gertrude and Edwin of Evanston, Ill., and Miss Sarah Hagar of Xenia, also participated.

Contests were enjoyed until 12 o'clock when the picnic lunch was served. Coffee, ice cream and pop were served free of charge by the company. The Cedarville Band furnished music for the outing.

After luncheon, other contests, trap shooting and the Hagar-Clifton baseball game were staged. Sam Kramer, Dayton photographer, took pictures of the events.

Clifton won the baseball game with a score of 19 to 8. The various contests, winners and prizes are as follows: Centipede race for men, first, Thomas Reed, captain; Robert Jackson, P. Jones and Henry Wisecup, neckties; second, Joe Ferryman, captain; Elvin Everhart, Paul Townsley and Lawrence Gillaugh, silk neckties; Wheelbarrow or three legged race for boys under fourteen; first, Paul Reed and Kenneth Ferryman, one fountain pen apiece; second, George Barlow and DeWitt McFarlan, one automatic pencil apiece. WOMAN IS SERIOUSLY CUT IN COLLISION OF MACHINES SATURDAY

Mrs. James H. Harner, Upper Bellbrook Pike, was seriously cut in a collision of automobiles on the Springfield and Xenia Pike near Old Town Saturday afternoon.

Presence of a Springfield physician, who was passing and who bound up a severed artery in the left wrist and a cut on her head with towels furnished by youths who were going swimming at the time of the accident, probably saved her life.

Mrs. Harner was driving north along the pike accompanied by her daughter, Miss Rosella Harner, when two machines traveling south, approached. George Pettiford, colored, Yellow Springs, driver of one of the machines, is said to have attempted to pass the auto driven by a Mr. Linton, of Wooster. Unable to pass in time to force ahead of the car to clear the road for the approach of the Harner machine, he also attempted to pass the Harner car on the right, and the machines collided.

Broken glass severed the artery in Mrs. Harner's wrist and cut her head from the right eye to the back of the head, the bone being scraped. After the first aid rendered by the Springfield physician she was taken to McClellan Hospital by Linton, where she was on the operating table three hours while her injuries were treated.

Miss Harner received only a slight cut on the knee and occupants of the Pettiford machine were unhurt. Both machines were damaged, the Harner machine being completely wrecked.

BRINGING UP FATHER

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER 143

Michael echoed his protestations of regret over their "quarrel" as he walked with Lilah to Menlow House through the silent, emotionless night. Two hours before he had sworn to himself to make her apologize to him. Now he was apologizing to her. She, too, became imbued with a spirit of confession and repentance.

She surprised him when she said: "I'm so dreadfully sorry, Michael. I wouldn't have done it if I hadn't been in a jealous mood resulting from your telling me that that Horner girl had been in your office, seeking work."

He protested, but her admission of her jealousy gave him a sort of selfish satisfaction. "Why dearest?"

"What did you tell her?"

"I told her that I didn't have any place in mind, but to come back in a few days. I said that just to put her off. If she comes back, then I'll just tell her that there doesn't seem to be a job for anyone as poorly equipped as she is."

They were passing a street light. Lilah looked him squarely in the eyes.

"Are you sure you're going to do that, Michael?"

His eyes did not waver, but they blinked. "Of course, dear," his voice did not imply that he was certain. "But oh, by the way! Lonnie has a great scheme! He thinks it would be a great idea for some cultivated persons to take Claudie under their wings and make a lady out of her. Maybe they could marry her off to some millionaire. I think it's a great idea. There is little enough beauty in the world, and certainly too few beautiful women, so we ought not allow any beauty to go to waste."

"I suppose Lonnie thinks he is a properly cultivated person to undertake this great experiment?" The corners of her mouth twisted themselves into a sort of grin.

"No," he paused, annoyed by her tone. "He knows we'd have to put her in charge of some respectable matron, or people would misunderstand."

"We?" she asked sharply. "Oh, I mean that if such an experiment were undertaken, He hurriedly got out a cigarette and lighted it."

"Then you've been thinking of undertaking such an experiment?"

"No, honey. NO!" And he thought, "Damn it!"

They walked on in silence at an accelerated pace.

"I thought you weren't going to have any more to do with Lonnie?"

"Why? When did I say that? I never did!"

"You implied it."

"Oh, perhaps I was peeved. But Lonnie's all right. You just can't get angry at him."

"Then you're going to take him in as a partner?"

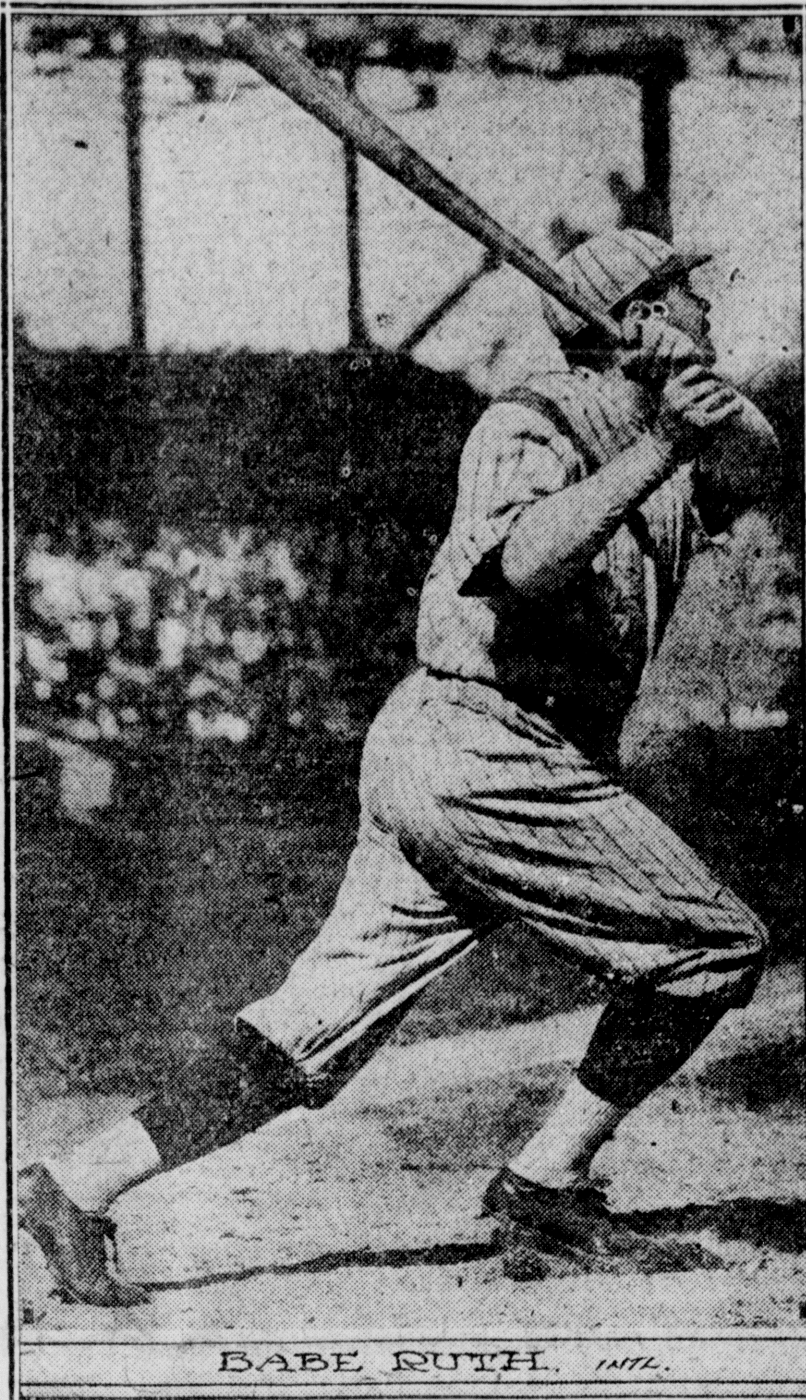

He hesitated. "I don't know. He wants to come in now. I haven't decided."

Her nerves ragged, Lilah burst out: "Well, when are you going to decide, Michael? You've been deciding for weeks, and yet you haven't decided anything yet."

Her shrill words sent a little shock of electricity through him. After all, what was he going to do?

HOBBIES OF THE GREAT AND NEAR GREAT AS TOLD BY NEWS WRITER

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the thirty-second of a series of intimate sketches which reveal the national political figure as a "brother under the skin" to the man behind the plow the white collar worker or the day laborer. Others will follow.

CONGRESSMAN B. H. SNELL Hunting wild game on the snow-covered slopes of the Adirondacks is the principal hobby of Representative Bertrand H. Snell (R., N. Y.), chairman of the House Rules Committee and one of the "big four" administration leaders in the lower branch of Congress.

The New York Congressman loves to take his rifle, a pack on his back and a pair of snowshoes and trail down his game on long trips through the snowy fastnesses. Frequently he will spend several days on the trail, following deer or elk for many miles across the wooded hills before bringing down his quarry.

On bear hunts the Congressman has had several exciting adventures when the trapped animals turned on their hunter. But in all events, Snell demonstrated great skill with his rifle and brought home coveted trophies of the chase.

BOUGHT GAME PRESERVE His love for the sport some years ago prompted Snell to purchase a game preserve in the Adirondacks, near his home at Potsdam, N. Y. He visits the reserve each Fall for at least one week's hunting. Invariably a small party of friends accompany him, and an invitation to a Snell deer hunt is much sought after in Congressional circles. His trophies of these hunts adorn the walls of his Potsdam home and also the walls of his Capitol office.

All phases of outdoor life attract the Congressman. He loves skating and sleighing, his home being not many miles distant from Lake Placid, famed for its winter sports.

Since becoming chairman of the House Rules Committee, with its control over legislation in the lower branch, Snell has devoted most of his spare time to study of parliamentary law. Under the House rules, his committee can permit action on any bill, while shutting out any other from a final vote.

TOURED EUROPE Elevated to the chairmanship two years ago, Snell used his first vacation — which came this summer — to make a tour of Europe to study foreign parliaments at first hand. He visited Great Britain, France, Belgium, Germany and Italy, visiting the capitals and watching the national parliaments at work. He also made a personal study of the parliamentary methods used.

In all probability, Snell will use the fruit of his observations as the basis for proposed changes for the improvement of the system now used by the House of Representatives. His proposal, if backed by the committee, virtually would assure any modification he desired.

A Friend in the Basement

The FarQuar System goes farther than any other furnace to make friends. It not only heats every room thoroughly, but does it with fresh air! It ventilates the home without flooding the rooms with dust, dirt, smoke, gases and fire poisons. Every room is evenly heated, — no hot and cold spots and no drafts along the floor.

And if you should leave the furnace wide open after firing, the Automatic Control will close the doors and drafts and open the check, bringing the fire under complete control long before there's any danger from overheating.

Don't breathe stale, devitalized and contaminated air any longer. Let
